The American Society for Industrial Security (ASIS) formed the Houses of Worship committee to address the growing problem of crimes committed against houses of worship.

ASIS is a worldwide body of security professionals representing the full spectrum of industries and organizations that face a wide variety of threats. ASIS is dedicated to continuing professional development and proliferation of good security practices.

Our goal is to reach out to all denominations to offer them an opportunity to get a free site security survey and risk assessment.

These surveys are conducted by experienced and certified security professionals who have volunteered their time to help the community.

After the survey a report will be prepared that will discuss what was observed and what recommendations the surveyor has made to enhance the security of your facility.

The security survey will review:

EXTERIOR

- Lighting
- Parking lots
- Playgrounds
- Fencing and gates
- Landscaping and obstructions
- Outbuildings and storage
- Neighborhood influences
- Access Control and Locks
- Closed Circuit TV Cameras

INTERIOR

- Doors and Windows
- Access Control and Locks
- Burglar Alarm System
- Panic Alarm System
- Fire Alarm System
- Cash handling and storage
- Policies and procedures for visitors and volunteers
- Closed Circuit TV Cameras

This is NOT a sales gimmick!

We will make recommendations as to what equipment and policies should be put into place, but we are not affiliated with the companies that provide those services.

The survey and the report are CONFIDENTIAL and will not be released to anyone other than the organization for which it was conducted.
